VISITORS HELD FOR GRAND JURY

Four Washington Outlaws Attempt to Shoot up City Last Night.

WOMAN SHOT IN FACE.

Perpetrators of Outrage Leave City in Automobile, But Are Overtaken by Alexandria Officers.

Crazed with drink and firing pistols at pedestrians as they dashed up and down the streets of Alexandria in a big touring car shortly after eleven o'clock last night, four Washingtonians created a "reign of terror" for half an hour, until their machine was overtaken by the police and three of the men arrested. During the disturbance, Maggie Jefferson, a colored woman from Washington, was shot in the face and a number of people had narrow escapes from the flying bullets.

The three men who were arrested gave their names as Harry Hampler, an automobile dealer of 223 B street northwest, Washington, Fred Reh, whose father is said to be a decorator in Washington, and Lesley Irwin. The fourth man jumped from the machine when it was overtaken by the police and made his escape. The Washington authorities have been asked to place him under arrest.

Hampler, the owner of the machine, came to Alexandria at four o'clock yesterday afternoon with George Clark, an Alexandria boy, to deliver an automobile cylinder which he had repaired. In a down-town saloon he met the three Washingtonians who were his companions on the wild ride of six hours later. A visit to the "...ed district" of Alexandria followed where the men secured an abundance of drinks. At 10 o'clock they returned to the center portion of the town and visited several saloons, where more liquor was consumed. They started to return to Washington at eleven o'clock but before leaving the city decided to give the people of the community a representation of the Mexican war. As the car crossed King street going north on Pitt street, two of the men in the back seat of the machine started firing revolvers at the people as they passed by on the side walk. The machine was going at a high rate of speed and the shots all went wild. At Princess street the machine went east to Fairfax street, turning the corner there and going south on Fairfax street. As it passed the police station a volley of shots were discharged at the building and Sergeant Scott, who was standing in the door gave an emergency alarm to all the police in the city and started in pursuit of the reckless men.

The machine turned into Prince street from Fairfax up Prince to Washington, circling the Confederate Monument, and thence out Washington street in the direction of Washington city. The men were yelling and firing their guns as fast as they could reload them.

At the corner of Washington and King street a group of colored people from Howard University, Washington, who had been attending an entertainment at McBurney's Hall, at the corner of Washington and King streets, were waiting for the 11:10 car to take them to their homes. When the men in the machine saw the crowd on the corner they commenced firing into the group and the Jefferson woman fell with a bullet in her head. Putting on increased speed the men continued out Washington street extended and in front of Taylor Dairy they met Norris Roland, a young man who was returning from his work at Potomac Yards. Three shots were fired at Roland as he stood in the path of the searchlights and the rapidity with which the machine was moving and the drunken condition of the men was all that saved him from being killed.

In the meanwhile Officers Kern and Norris had secured the machine of W. H. Heymel which was standing in front of the Central Garage on Washington street and started in pursuit of the men. They were followed in a second machine by Sergeant Scott and other officers and several other automobiles with citizens joined in the chase. The fugitives were overtaken at the approach of the bridge over the tracks leading to the Potomac Yards. As the machine containing Officers Kern and Norris approached, two of the men jumped from the back seat and made their escape. The other two men were covered by the policemen's pistols and after some resistance were placed under arrest. Two pistols, one a 32-caliber and the other a long .38, were found in their posession. Later in the night Reh, one of the men who had escaped and had tried to make his way to Washington, returned to Alexandria and was captured in the Alexandria Quick lunch room on King street. He likewise resisted when placed under arrest, and the officers were compelled to club him before he could be taken to the police station.

Maggie Jefferson, colored, who was struck by one of the bullets, was a member of the party who were standing at King nad Washington streets waiting for an outgoing train. The ball struck her on the right side of the face, near the eye, and it was at first thought that the wound was serious, but later it was seen that it was not of a dangerous nature, as the ball had, fortunately glanced. She was taken into the Martha Washington Cafe and later to Taylor's drug store, where Louis Davis, washed the wound and afforded temporary relief. Dr. Delaney later arrived followed by Drs. Penn and Hopkins, and the woman's wound was dressed. Then she later left for Washington.

The men were arraigned in Police Court this morning and made conflicting statements as to who was responsible for the shooting. Hampler said that he was driving the car and was afraid to stop and that the three men whom he had picked up in the saloon were responsible for the shooting. Hampler was represented by Attorney Louis N. Duffey. All three men were held for the action of the grand jury.

Reh was released this afternoon upon giving bond in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance.

VILLA DOESN'T WANT WAR?

Constitutionalist Leader Says There Will be no Change in Relations With United States.

Juarez, Apirl 24.—General Villa upon his arrival in Juarez from Chihuahua yesterday afternoon said:

"We do not want a war with the United States, or any other foreign nation. Mexico has troubles of her own, and Mexico can settle them, if it is but given a little time. Personally, I believe they are on the point of settlement now. I came to Juarez to meet my good American friends to extend to them a hand of friendship, and to thank them for the great interest they have taken in the efforts of the constitutionalists to restore peace to my unhappy country.

"I do not want war, nad I am sure your people do not. We have always been good friends, haven't we? You may rest assured I will do all in my power to see that there is no change in our relationship."

FIRE IN WASHINGTON.

Western High School, Supposed to be Fireproof, Destroyed.

Western High School, considered one of Washington's finest school buildings, with two recently constructed wings supposed to be fireproof, was destroyed by fire this morning.

Not a cent of insurance covers the loss, estimated from $250,000 to $300,000, on the temple-like structure that crowned a knoll on Georgetown Heights.

MORE BLOODSHED IN VERA CRUZ

Three American Sailors Are Killed and Twenty-Three Wounded.

U.S. AEROPLANE FLEET

"On to Mexico City!" Now The Cry—Villa Says He Doesn't Want War—Calls Huerta a Drunkard.

Vera Cruz, April 24.—The battleship Mississippi, with a full complete ment of aeroplanes and equipment, steamed into Vera Cruz harbor this morning, and before nightfall the American aeroplane corps will be given their first experience in real war.

The warship which brought the corps from Key West has joined Rear Admiral Badger's fleet.

The military aviators are ready to take up their scouting, and are but waiting orders.

The troops of General Maas, former millitary Governor of Vera Cruz, are still reported fifteen miles outside the city. Should Admirals Fletcher and Badger receive reports that the re-enforcements Maas is said to be expecting are approaching, the aeroplanes could quickly take the air and bring back the reports of the positions of the federal troops. An attack upon Vera Cruz is more or less expected, but the American officers do not believe it will be attempted until Maas is reinforced by troops from Mexico City.

Vera Cruz was comparatively quiet last night. Occasional "sniping" continued, however, and the marines and bluejackets were kept busy making arrests and raiding houses from which shots were fired.

A great quantity of ammunition was found in a parochal church from which there had been continual sniping. The marines arrested the padre who dropped to his knees in the streets, praying loudly and protesting his innocence.

Charge O'Shaughnessy and his staff have reached Vera Cruz under a military guard furnished by Huerta. They arrived on a special train carrying 150 Americans.

Chnhuahua, Mexco, April 24.—A special train carrying 250 refugee American families, from Madera and Pearson was derailed at San Tonas, a small station between this city and Madera this afternoon. The passengers are marooned in the mountains, unable to proceed on their way.

Owing to the Cumbre Tunnel being filled with rock and debris as a result of its being dynamited by Maximo Castillo's band of bandits, the train was unable to go directly from Madara and Juarez were routed via this city.

No one was killed or injured in the wreck, but many had narrow escapes

El Paso, Tex., April 24.—General Francisco Villa, head of the military force, informed George C. Carothers, special agent of the State Department, that he will decline to be dragged into war with the United States by anybody.

"Why," he smiled, as he threw an arm about the broad shoulders of the government representative, "all Europe would laugh at us if we went to war with you. They would say that the 'little drunkard' Huerta has drawn them into a tangle at last."

At another time he said: "Why does the United States want to pay any attention to that drunken Huerta?"

Later, in talking formally to reporters, Villa said: "I am a soldier and ready to follow all the orders of my chief, Gen. Carranza."

Diplomatic relations with Mexico were broken off yesterday when Charge d'Affaires Algara, representative of the Huerta government in Washington, and Nelson O'Shaughnessy, American Charge d'Affaires in Mexico City, were given their passparts. Senor Algara left Washington last nght.

President Wilson is preparing to issue a call for 50,000 volunteers for war with Mexico.

CARNIVAL NOTES.

Large Attendance at Elks' Hall Last Night.

The carnival of the Motor Boat Club was splendidly attended last night, and the Indian Guard Band, in uniform, was present in a body. A large delegation from the Corinthian Yacht Club of Washington, came down, and affiliated with the members of the Club until a late hour. As announced yesterday evening a prize fish walk was given promptly at 11 o'clock, and the winning couple were presented with a prize, the gentleman, a box of cigars, and the lady a handsome umbrella.

Great interest is being manifested in the complete motor boat which is placed in the centre of the hall, and at the request of a number of those present chances in books of ten each, of the value of one dollar were offered on the wheel, and several hundred chances were disposed of in this manner.

Tomorrow afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock, the carnival will be opened for the benefit of the school children, and will remain open until 5 o'clock. All children will be admitted upon the payment of one cent, and all attractions of the carnival will be open to them at the same price. Moving pictures will be displayed in the afternoon, so that the little folks may enjoy the carnival to the fullest extent.

The Washington Canoe Club will be in attendance at the carnival tonight, and a prize waltz of two-step will be arranged to take place between ten thirty and eleven o'clock

The Loyal Order of Moose, accompanied by the Indian Guard Band, will also attend tonight.

FRATERNAL VISIT.

Tacoma Lodge Entertained by Alexandria Brethern.

Over two hundred members of Tacoma Lodge of Masons of Tacoma, D. C., paid a fraternal visit to Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons last night. Accompanying the party were Past Grand Masters Ginn and Woodman, of the Grand Lodge of the District of Columbia. The third degree was conferred, following which a number of speeches were made. E. S. Harnden, worshipful master of Tacoma Lodge, was in charge of the party.

VIRGINIAN FIRST TO LAND.

Washington, April 24.—Major Randolph Carter Berkeley, of the United States steamship Prairie, who is a native of Staunton, Va., was the first American to land in Vera Cruz at the beginning of hostilities on April 21.

Major Berkeley is a son of the late Col. Carter Berkeley, an officer in the Confederate Army.

JAPANESE SREM FRIENDLY.

Tokio, April 24.—Most of the leading newspapers of Japan are moderate and reserved in their attitude regarding the Mexican situation.

One or two of the less responsible journals, however, yesterday suggest that advantage should be taken of the present embarrassment of Washington to press the issues outstanding between Japan and the United States.

AMERICANS SAID TO BE IN DANGER

American Consulate in Mexico City Attacked and Windows Broken.

FRENZIED POPULACE.

Anti-American Demonstration And Rioting Increasing—Shops Looted And Owners Insulted.

Vera Cruz, Mexico, April 24.—Eight hundred Americans who are still in Mexico City for various reasons, are in danger at the hands of the infuriated Mexican populace.

The American consulate has been attacked, windows broken by stones, and the coat of arms torn from its doors.

The anti-American demonstrations, which have assumed the proportions of riots, broke out three days ago, and are increasing in intensity. Americans are being insulted in every conceivable way. No bloodshed has resulted yet, although this is momentarily expected. The Americans left behind are of the type capable of looking out for themselves under ordinary circumstances.

American shops have been looted by the Mexicans, and the goods and chattels confiscated, either to be destroyed or to be made use of. Americans are appearing in the streets at their own peril. They are being hissed, stoned, and insulted in every way possible.

"Mexico next" is the slogan today of the army and navy.

Heads of both branches of the service realize there is now no chance of peace. They are expecting momentarily a formal declaration of w from Huerta. And they are ready for such action.

Suggestions having the approval of the President and Secretary of State Bryan that we will remain quiet a Vera Cruz for a time, are received with laughter by the men who know the actual situation. They assert that unless we act promptly and rush an expedition to Mexico City our forces at Vera Cruz will be decimated by disease and constantly exposed to attack from the land. And it is certain the President and his premier will soon be convinced that energetic action alone will prevent a long drawn out war.

The general staff of the army and navy has told the President through Secretaries Daniels and Garrison that if the Mexican capital is seized and the railroad between Vera Cruz and Mexico City, guarded, this country can dictate its terms and assure restoration of tranquility.

But if action is not immediate the President has been told Huerta will be able to gather together to his support Zapata and his brigands and a large percentage of Carranza's and Villa's men, who will desert these chiefs if they do not agree to fight the United States, and then the task of taking the capital will be a serious one.

NEARING THE $10,000 MARK

Collection Committee For Hospital Meets With Much Encouragement.

$8,152 IS SUBSCRIBED.

Chamber of Commerce Gives $500 and Alexandria-Washington Lodge and Fraternal Americans Each $100.

The $9,000 mark was practically reached by the committee collecting the $50,000 fund for the Alexandria Hospital when the returns had been canvassed yesterday. The committee met last night and a total of $8,152 was reported. While the committee was in session news was received that the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce had voted $500 at a special meeting which was held last night. A little later came the announcement that Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons had made a contribution of $100 and Alexandria Council, Order of Fraternal Americans, a similar amount. With another subscription from a private source the total for yesterday was brought up to $8,952.

One-third of the fund, or $16,000 by Monday afternoon, when the full list of contributors will be published, is now the aim of the committee, and they are confident that if this mark is reached, the rest of the money can be raised without trouble in the four weeks which will follow. There are good indications that some of the heaviest subscriptions will come in within the next day.

Among the different classes of people who are expected to aid the fund are the following:

People who have not been compelled to use a hospital and wish to show their gratitude for their good health.

People who have been sick and who wish to show their appreciation of the advantages of a hospital.

Corporations and business enterprisese employing many men who may need hospital attention.

Railways, steamship and public service corporations who owe it to their patrons to have a hospital at hand in case of a serious accident.

Former Alexandrians who wish to see their old home equipped with everything that will make conditions better and happier.

Business firms of Washington and elsewhere who have many Alexandria patrons and who would like to give a portion of their profits from their Alexandria business to a charity in this city.

Fraternal organizations, whose members are often found among those sick at a hospital.

Church members because of their belief in the relieving the sick and needy.

In her excellent report for 1913 Miss Simmons, the manager, says:

"When a community invests in a hospital it opens up an avenue through which its benevolent people of means may perform more real charitable service than through any other path to help the poor and needy in the community. It is the duty of the hospital to educate the people to a realization of its value as a powerful means for good among the poor, sick and suffering."

CHALONER GETS INCREASE.

Allowed by Court to Spend $24,000 Instead of $17,000 a Year.

New York, April 23.—John Armstrong Chaloner, of Virginia, has obtained an order from Justice Giegerich permitting him to spend $24,000 a year from his income, instead of only $17,000, as formerly.

Chaloner, adjudged an incompetant in this State, lives on his farm in Virginia. He has an estate yielding an annual income of about $40,000. Chaloner told the court he had $24,000 to spend when he was twenty-one years old, and could see no reason why he should not be allowed this sum now.

VERDICT FOR THE CITY

Washingtonian Who Sued for $10,000 Damages Fails to Prove His Case

The special jury from Fairfax county, who yesterday considered the case of J. Clarence Vliet, an employe of the Government printing office in Washington, who had instituted a suit for $10,000 damages for injuries alleged to have been received by a fall on the south side of King street near Royal, the plaintiff claiming that the accident was due to a defect in the sidewalk, brought in a verdict for the defendant late yesterday afternoon in the Corporation Court.

The verdict was in accordance with the instructions of Judge Barley, who held that the plaintiff did not have an action against the city. Vliet's attorney's, Messrs. Quinn and Harlow, will take an appeal to the Supreme Court of Virginia.

SIMPSON ON THE STAND.

Aftermath of Drowning of Two Women Last May.

Arthur W. Simpson, a Washington coal agent, on trial before Justice Gould and a jury in Criminal Court No. 1 on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the drowning in the Potomac of two women off his motorboat, the Lotus, on the night of May 27, 1912, was on the witness stand yesterday in his own defense.

Simpson swore absolutely that no one aboard the Lotus was intoxicated, as charged by the prosecution. He admitted that the party, which consisted of himself, three other men, and the two women, Sarah F. Neilson and Bessie Haller, had taken some beer and that some of the beverage was aboard the boat. He declared that the engine of the Lotus acted badly after the start on the return trip to Washington, and that he and Charles Toepfer, who was steering, were working over the machinery and were not aware of the approach of the Angler, the vessel that ran the Lotus down, until it was almost upon them. He said the Lotus had lights.

Benjamin F. Binnix, an engineer for a plant located on the Potomac, testified as to the collision between the Angler and the Lotus, and said that he heard only one blast from the whistle of the Angler. Two blasts were required, it was stated, as a signal for right of way.

Charles Toepfer corroborated Simpson's testimony as to the trouble with the engine, the lights, and the sobriety of the party. John A. Norton, a brother-in-law of Toepfer, said the latter knew all about steering a boat. Similar testimony was given by John Schlider. It was stated that the women aboard the Lotus were making the trip at the instigation of a man who has since died. They were at Marshall Hall, it was stated, and were desirous of returning to Washington, and were brought aboard by him.

Twenty-one witnesses testified for the prosecution, most of them being employes aboard the Angler. Robert C. Cumberland, testified that he saw the Lotus and that no lights were displayed.

The trial will be resumed Monday, when the remainder of the witnesses for the defense will be heard.

To Prospective Brides and Others Desiring

Handmade French Lingerie

Fabrics are very sheer and fine, especially so now, in response to the demand of fashion for filmy lingerie of beautiful texture. A garment, though simple in line, can be as elaborate or as plain as one chooses to have it. Some of them are magnificently embellished with real laces, embroideries and ribbons and combinations while others are hand-embroidered only.

The fine fitting qualities which French lingerie now possesses is feature that every woman should appreciate. Until the last few years this lingerie was made according to the figures of French women, and was entirely unsuited to American women's use. Now all of our French lingerie is made from the best scientific measurements of American women, and all can be fitted with comfort and style.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION

NEGRO GUNMEN CAPTURED.

They are Charged With Shooting Police Chief Feltner.

Winchester, Va., April 24.—The two young negro gunmen—Allen and Jackson—one of whom shot Police Chief Charles Feltner, of Berryville, through the abdomen and right lung when they were about to be arrested for robbing several stores in Berryville early Monday morning, were captured Wednesday at Harrisburg, Pa., by a Cumberland Valley Railroad detective, and will be taken to jail at Berryville. Phillip Jackson, a third member of the gang, who was caught at Hagerstown, is now in the Berryville jail.

Officer Feltner, although dangerously wounded, is expected to recover. The shooting took place near Wheatland, W. Va., the officer having seen the desperadoes at that place while he was on his way to Hagerstown to get Phillip Jackson. Unarmed, he undertook to arrest the men. As one of the gunmen knocked him down the other shot him.

HELD AS WHITE SLAVER.

Federal Authorities are Interested in Diamond Theft Case.

Richmond, Va., April 24.—Detective Sergeants Wiltshire and Bailey expect to hold a conference with Assistant District Attorney Hiram Smith relative to the case of G. O. Miller and Ruth Miller, the young woman claiming to be his wife, who are held in jail here on the charge of stealing a $400 diamond pin from Jacob Kirsch, resident of the Richmond Hotel.

Mr. Smith, it is understood, is conducting an investigation which may result in the prosecution of Miller on the white slave charge, and this will be the subject of the conference with the detectives.

The woman has been identified as Ruth Seidell, widow of a prominent Macon, (Ga.), physician, and it is the belief of the police that she is not married to Miller. At any rate they say that she will have to display the marriage certificate to "show" them.

It was learned that while the woman was in jail at Jacksonville last year for check flashing, a bank burglar broke out of the prison and wanted her to accompany him to London, but she preferred to take her chances in the Florida Metropolis, and did finally obtain her release after the checks had been made good by her relatives.

YOU'LL CROW OVER 'GETS-IT" FOR CORNS. !

It Will Startle You How "GETS-IT" Gets Corns Every Time.

"One, two, three!" That's about as long as it takes you to apply "GETS-IT" the new-plan, simplest, surest corn cure the world has ever seen.

"This Is No Place For a Crow. Her Corns Are All Gone. She Must Have Used 'GETS-IT.'"

Corn fussing is all over. Corns, corn pains and calluses are absolutely done for, from the minute you apply "GETS-IT". Forget the bother of useless plasters, greasy salves that spread and make toes sore and raw, little doughnut cotton rings that press on corns, forget knives, razors, scissors, and the dangers of blood poison from drawing blood and the contraptions and harness that simply make corns worse. "GETS-IT" never hurts the flesh, never fails.

CAMP SITE SELECTED.

Virginia Troops Will Mobolize Upon Fair Grounds in Richmond.

Richmond, Va., April 24.—The Virginia State Fair Grounds in Richmond was today selected as the camp site for the mobilization of troops, acocrding to an official announcement from theGovernor's fice. The city offered the government the grounds, rent water, light and sewerage free.

Richmond, Va., April 24—Following lengthy conferences with delegations from Norfolk, Petersburg, Richmond and territory contiguous to Richmond, Gov. Stuart announced yesterday that tentative arrangements for the encampment of the Virginia volunteers for Mexican service had been completed.

In response to the telegram from the War Department instructing him to make provisional arrangements for the mobilizaton of State troops, Adjutant-General Sale addressed the following telegram to the Adjutant-General of the United States yesterday afternoon:

"Suitable mobilization camp for Virginia troops has been secured, including water, sewerage, lights, as well as railroad transportation facilities Arrangements for fuel and labor are being tentatively completed.

"SALE."

"Adjutant-General of Virginia."

Early yesterday morning Governor Stuart called to his office Adjutant-General Sale, Leutenant-Colonel Alent Potts, to confer over the mobilization plans. Rumors circulated to the effect that Richmond might lose the mobilization camp brought an early request for a hearing from the Chamber of Commerce. A delegation composed of the following men were received by the executive conference: W. T. Reed, president of the Chamber of Commerce; R. A. Dunlop, secretary of the Chamber om Commerce; Horace F. Smith, of the Manufacturers' Exhibit. G. K. Pollock, of the city council; Wm. Jenkins, Jr., George W. Rogers, and H. L. Harwood, of Post A, Travelers' Protective Association; Beverley Randolph and W. H. Adams, president of the Board of Aldermen.

The Richmond delegation was able to offer two desirable sites for the location of the camp. Sam Cohen, representing the State Fair Association, told the Governor that his association offered the state the unrestricted use of the State Fair Grounds, despite rumors to the contrary. It was pointed out that the fair grounds property possesses unusually desirable features as the site for the camp, including city water, sewerage, lights, telephones, railroad sidings, buildings and stables, and is inclosed by a high fence.

Leigh R. Page and J. T. Anderson, representing the executive committee of the State Fair Association offered the grounds to Colonel Potts on Wednesday night, and the proposition was wired to the War Department at once.

The Administrative Board, representing the city, which owns the Fair Grounds, also offered the grounds to the Governor yesterday for the camp.

Through Colonel Potts, the Lewis Ginter Land and Improvement Company offered the Governor the use of the old Deep Run Hunt Club property on the Hermitage Road, O. H. Funsten, representing the company, said that every requirement could be met there save water. The use of these grounds were at no time refused, but Mr. Fumsten said that th Ginter Company, in view of its co tracts with 1,100 people in Ginter Park, could not undertake to furnish water for a camp of 5,000 ment and 700 to 800 horses. He pointed out however, that the city water could secured at the A. P. Hill Monument, not far away.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY.

Search Made For Turfin Sydnor, Who Killed Charles Sadler and Wounded Woman.

Keysville, Va, April 24.—Search is being made throughout Halifax and Charlotte counties for Thurfin Sydnor, who murdered his brother-n-law, Charles Sadler, and slashed his divorced wife, who is so badly wounded that her death is momentarily expected. She is reported to be in a dying condition.

The murder occurred at Sadler's home, about three miles from Scottsburg, and is supposed to have been due to jealosuy and an old grudge. Sadler's throat was cut from ear to ear.

Sydnor walked up behind Sadler and seizing him,drawing a sharp knife across the victim's throat, killing him instantly. The slayer then attacked the divorced woman, stabbing hire in a most brutal manner.

Enraged citizens are searching for Sydnor. The crime has caused great excitement throughout Halifax county.

TO ORDAIN MINISTER.

Bishop Randolph to Invest Jennings W. Hobson With Divine Authority.

Richmond, Va, April 24.—The Right Rev. A. M. Randolph, bishop of the docese of Southern Virginia has appointed the 30th of April as the date for the ordination of the Rev. Jennings Wise Hobson to the order of priesthood in the Protestant Episcopal church, The young clergyman is a nephew of the late Capt. John S. Wise and Captain Jennings Wise, of Richmond.

The ordination will take place at St. Thomas Church, Abingdon, Va., at 11 A .M., Tuesday, April 30.

Rev. Mr. Hobson is a graduate of the Theological Seminary in Virginia, near Alexandria, and was ordained to the deaconate in June of last year.

LANDSLIDE WRECKS TRAIN.

Engineer on Southern Killed And Baggagemaster Injured.

Lynchburg, Va., April 24.—A landslide near Rockfish Wednesday night just missed the Birmingham special on the Southern Railway. The slide occurred just after the through train passed and a few minutes later a northbound local passenger train ran into the obstruction.

The slide bars of the engine were stripped, killing Engineer Clark, of Charlottesville. Baggagemaster Goodwin was slightly hurt. None of the passengers was injured.

GREWSOME FIND IN CAVE.

Preserved by Peculiar Underground Air Corpse is Wind Dried.

Staunton, Va., April 24.—Railroad men, seeking shelter in a cave located on the Chesapeake and Ohio just west of Gilmore Mills and not far from Glasgow, Va., found the body of a man who had evidently been dead for a number of years.

The condition of the skin made any attempt at identification impossible, even as to whether the corpse was white or colored. Owing to the atmosphere of the cave, created by the presence of saltpeter, the body was in a peculiar state of preservation, and when tapped upon it sounded like a banjo head being struck.

The man had been clothed in five shirts a collar and tie, while about his neck was fastened a string of beads and a cross. A gold compass, umbrella, a pair of hose, and a loaded revolver. There was no signs of violence, but an inquest will be held and a thorough examination made of the place, in hopes of throwing some light on the mystery.

The cave has long been a gathering place for hoboes, and it is not unlikely that a murder was committed some years ago, all marks of identification having apparently been removed from the body.

THE SERIOUS SIDE OF WAR.

At the beginning of every war enthusiasm, for a time, casts the real seriousness of such embarkations into an eclipse. Embryonic sons of Mars hover about enlisting offices, smoke, chat with young women and exchange pleasantries with no thought whatever of what it really means to be a soldier.

In 1859, when the Alexandria boys left for Harper's Ferry to aid in quelling the John Brown insurrection, it was the first time recruits had gone to war from our city since 1846, when they started for Mexico. The John Brown affair was virtually over when the Alexandrians reached their objective point, and the first war with Mexico proved of short duration.

When those who composed the larger portion of the Seventeenth Virginia Regiment took hasty leave of relatives and friends in 1861 at the spot where the lone Confederate soldier, with bowed head, faces the southern country, most of them supposed that the trouble between the north and south would prove as much of a fiasco as the insurrection at Harper's Ferry. After four years' of faithful service under all sorts of difficulties, the survivors of that gallant band returned to tell of their experience.

In the north in the early part of 1861 a similar delusion pervaded the people. They dreamed they had a Nat Turner insurrection to suppress. Recruits appeared on dress parade and marched through streets while women cast flowers and waved handkerchiefs at them. When the orders to repair to the front were given they left their homes to the tune of the "The Girl I Left Behind Me."

The clash of war, sleeping under the canopy of heaven, or gathering around camp fires while snow was flying, and later sojourning in Andersonville or Libbey Prison proved terrible realities. "Tenting on the old camp ground, dreaming, mother dear, of you, and the bright and happy home so far away," was hummed more often than "The Girl I Left Behind Me."

In the miscellaneous cargo of army transports now being loaded at Galveston for the campaign in Mexico are eight hundred coffins, ghastly freight, which may be needed, but let us hope not.

Only a corporal's guard of fatalities have as yet been the fruits of the second war with Mexico, but this small number has cast a shadow over our good-natured President and he has been quick to express his sorrow and sympathy with those who have had crape placed upon their doorknobs at the outset of this conflict.

President Wilson, like Abraham Lincoln, is not unmindful of the distress which is brought to homes by the clash of war. Lincoln's oration at Gettysburg was short, but to the point. It breathed what should be the true spirit of a man who poses as the head of a nation. Our present executive is not of the mould of a Napoleon, Frederick the Great, or others who have sent thousands to slaughter, in by-gone years.

LANDMARK ELIMINATED.

Building at One Time Used in Construction of Locomotive Vanishes.

The work of enlarging the electric plant at the foot of Wolfe street, has rendered it necessary to demolish the structure which three score years ago was erected by the Smith & Perkins Locomotive Company, which for some time was in operation.

This important adjunct to Alexandria's commercial importance began operations in the early fifties and built most of the locomotives which were used on the old Orange and Alexandria Railroad, (now the Washington Division of the Southern system,) as well as those used on the Manassas Gap Railroad, running from Manassas Junction to Harrisonburg. The firm also built locomotives for other roads situated in different parts of the contiguous country.

A spur track was placed from Union street east into the works, and the first locomotive operated on the Orange Road was built there. It was generally known as the "Betsey" but its proper name was the "Pioneer." The bringing of this engine out of the works and placing it upon the Union street track was an event in Alexandria, nearly all the inhabitants having repaired to the spot to witness the appearance of the locomotive. It was a fete day in the city, and some persons now living will remember the enthusiasm of the occasion.

A large force of men were employed at the Alexandria Locomotive Works, and engines which were constructed for roads out of the State were placed upon large scows and towed away, some up the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal.

Shortly before the outbreak of the civil war the works ceased to be operated, and for many years the buildings remained idle. In the early part of the eighties they were acquired by what was known as the Virginia Iron and Shipbuilding Company, and arrangements were made for beginning what seemed to be an important enterprise, but the hopes of its founders as well as those of Alexandrians who were interested in it never crystallized. Later a company was formed who announced that they were about to vulcanize wood. They were profuse in advertising the possibilities of their enterprise This also proved a disappointment, and later a company which proposed to grind barytes took charge of the place. This failed to materialize, and a few years ago the property was acquired by the Electric Light Company, and, as stated above, they have eliminated the building which during many years has stood as a reminder of the most important enterprise ever launched in Alexandria, and which cast a gloom over the city when the whir of its machinery ceased to be heard.

OFFICE OF CLERK OF GAS.
City Hall, April 24, 1914.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received at this office addressed to Jno. T. Harrison, Chairman, Committee on Light, until 8 P. M., Tuesday, May 5, 1914 for furnishing the Gas Works with five thousand tons, more or less, of gas coal (2,240 pounds to the ton) to be delivered on trestle at Gas Works, Alexandria, Virginia, during the fiscal year commencing June 1st, 1914, and ending May 31st, 1915, orders to be accepted by the successful bidders any date after awarding contract so that coal will arrive at works on or before June 1, 1914.

The coal must be Monongah, Tycoonal, Youghiogheny, Montana Westmoreland, Fairmount, Lincoln or other gas coal of equal or superior yield and candle power and must be 3-4 screened. Bidders can give their figures on all of the mines and are required to give candle power yield and analysis per ton.

In routing coal bidder must ship by Southern Railway, provided he can show that rates are not in excess of competing lines rendering similar service.

The committee reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Terms:—Cash on 15th day of each month following the delivery of coal.

By order of Committee on Light.
24 3t. J. B. WALLER,

BOY OF 16 A SUICIDE.

Feared Punishment for Violating Parole and Drank Poison.

Philadelphia, April 23.—Fear that he would be sent to a reform school, the police declare, prompted Sylvian Ritch, 16 years old, to end his life yesterday by drinking poison at his home, No. 2015 North Thirty-third street. Shortly before the boy was supposed to leave his home for school he met his father on the stair way and announced that he had taken poison. The father believed the boy to be jesting, but a moment later the lad fell to the floor unconscious. An ambulance was summoned and the young sufferer was sent to the Northwestern General Hospital where he died a few hours later.

According to the police, the boy had been placed on probation by Judge Gorman in the Juvenile Court for a period of three months. During this period, it is said, he frequently broke the terms of the parole. Sheriff's Officer James Smith was sent to the Ritch home yesterday to arrest the youth for the violation, but when he arrived the boy was being carried to an ambulance. Ritch was placed on probation on January 8 after his father had testified that his son was incorrigible. On March 20 Miss Anathan, the probation officer, learned that the boy had stolen $100 from his father. It is believed the boy learned that the Sheriff's officer was about to re-arrest him and that he deliberately ended his life.

ANARCHY IN TRINIDAD.

Troops Unable to Cope With Strikers' Battle Renewed.

Denver, Col., April 24.—Battle between the miners and troops in the Ludlow strike district were renewed at dawn yesterday, according to a dispatch received here early in the morning from Trinidad. Five men have been killed by the field guns of the militia, the message says, and the miners are missing to destroy the State troops now on duty. This increased the total number of reported deaths to forty-four. Immediately after the receipt of this other troops were sent to reinforce those now on duty.

It is probable that Federal troops will be ordered out within twenty-four hours. A condition of complete anarchy prevails in the strike district and the State troops have been unable to control the situation. The following dispatch was received by the Rocky Mountain News today from its staff correspondent at Trinidad.

'Thirty-five persons, including five women and three children, trapped in a blazing mine. Probably the world's greatest industrial horror. Five camps in flames."

Trinidad, Cal., April 24—Thirty-five men, women and children, trapped and held prisoners in the blazing Empire mine of the Southwestern Fuel Company, near Auilar, are believed to have been suffocated. Outside the entrance to the mine armed strikers today refused all appeals that rescuers be permitted to enter the shaft.

Among those trapped in the burning Empire mine was J. S. Siple, president of the Southwestern Fuel Company, with other officials and guards and five women and three children who took refuge in the shaft house last night when strikers bombarded the mine.

SUICIDE OF A PRINTER.

Arrested for Drunkenness And Could Not Bear Humiliation.

Just before he died, Louis E. Mankin, 54 years old, of Washington, penned a note to Attorney Albert E. Shoemaker, counsel for the Antisaloon League, in which he announced his intention of committing suicide. He explained that he had been arrested for drunkenness and could not survive the humiliation of such an experience.

"For the first time in thirty years," the note read, "I have strayed from the paths that are straight. For the first time in thirty years I challenged old John Barleycorn."

In conclusion the note contained the following quotations from the Proverbs of Solomon, xxi.6-7.

" 'Give strong drink unto him that is ready to perish, and wine unto those that be of heavy hearts. Let him drink and forget his poverty and remember his misery no more.' "

A second note was addressed to George Fuller, a distant relative, in which Mankin bequeathed to Fuller a black cat, cautioning the legatee to provide well for the animal's comfort.

"It's all I have, George," Mankin wrote. "That cat and I have been pals for years."

Mankin was single and owned a small printing shop in a rear room on the second floor at 1204 Thirty-first street northwest. Here he worked, prepared his own meals, and slept.

Other occupants yesterday morning detected the odor of gas. Policemen found the door leading to the print shop locked, so they broke it down and entered. Gas filled the room. The body of the printer was found upright in a chair in a corner of the room. In the mouth was a rubber tube connecting with one of the gas jets on the wall.

A BETTER REMEDY THAN NASTY SALTS.

Few people like to take physic, especially salts, because they are so disagreeable to take and because of the griping and pains they cause. Rexall Orderlies enable you to take less physic, and all without griping, purging or excessive looseness. Salts and harsh physics usually give only temporary relief and often leave the bowels worse off than before.

Rexall Orderlies move the bowels promptly and soothe, tone and stregnthen the intestinal muscles, leaving them healthy and regular in action. They taste like candy, and the movement they cause is as easy and natural as though your bowels were in perfect health and you never had to take any physic at all. We have so much faith in Rexall Orderlies that we urge you to try them with the understanding that, if they do not satisfy you in every way, all you have to do to get your money back is to tell us. We honestly believe them to be the best bowel remedy made. In vest pocket tin boxes; 10c, 25c, 50c.

You can buy Rexall Orderlies only at the Rexall Stores, and in this town of Wm. P. Taylor, Druggist, 616 King street.

VETERANS OFFER SERVICES.

Spanish War Camp Will Form Company for Duty in Mexico.

Richmond, Va., April 24.—Fitzhugh Lee Camp, Spanish War veterans, held an enthusiastic meeting last night in the Richmond Grays' armory, and decided to tender the services of the organization as a whole to Governor Stuart for service in Mexico. The camp has 37 members, but as there are nearly 300 veterans of the Spanish-American war in this city, it is believed that there will be little difficulty in recruiting up to the maximum strength of a company.

Adjutant-General W. W. Sale was visited yesterday by a delegation from the Greco-American Club, which offered the services of seventy-five Greeks, the majority of whom have either seen active service, or have been in European armies. The men were told to report to Major Lawrence T. Price, of the Richmond Grays' Battalion, who may be able to handle them. Under the existing military law of Virginia, only forty companies are authorized, which number has been reached. On a war footng, however others could be recruited.

CONVICTS SET FIRE TO SHOPS.

Flames Are Subdued After Great Excitement in Ossining Penitentiary.

Ossining, N. Y., April 24.—Following a mutiny of 1800 convicts in the knitting factory at Sing Sing prison, an incendiary fire in the enamel shop of the wagon factory caused wild excitement at the penitentiary early yesterday.

Trusties were detailed to aid the guards in subduing the flames, while the other prisoners, locked in their cells, howled to be released. Help was called from Ossining, but before the village fire department reached the prison the flames were under control.

Warden Clancy stated that he had the belligerent prisoners under control that there would be no further trouble.
